The “Silver Bean” competition is named after the famous public sculpture that highlights Millennium Park, downtown Chicago. The 100 ton, highly polished stainless steel bean, reflects the Chicago skyline as you stand underneath it and experience the positive energy that it illuminates. It is a favorite “must see” for visitors to Chicago, Illinois, and will help set the stage for this inaugural International Competition.

The Host Committee is looking forward to hosting both teams and athletes from Canada and the United States.
