

Team Trials 2020

Held in Regina at the University of Regina Centre for Kinesiology Health and Sport. Same gyms as the 2019 Canadians. (Approx cost $13,000 for full days of gym and meeting rooms)

Gym and meeting space is booked for Friday, May 15 for practice time and judges focus meeting. Can have opening ceremonies Friday night if needed for timing. Could even have short program Friday night if time required. We have the gyms from 7:30-10:00 each day.

Will likely host an open competition in conjunction with team trials for level B freestyle and pairs. Anticipate around 10-15 B freestyle athletes may attend.

Contingent meeting/clinic on Monday May 18 will be held at Martin School of Dance

Accommodations- although there is no sponsorship or commission/rebate options available, the U of R residence is being recommended for the accommodation for this event.

Majority of athletes, coaches, judges and officials can be accommodated in Kisik Tower- a short walk to the Kinesiology building.

Accommodation pricing is $44/person and there are a couple choices of rooms- see attached.

All bedrooms are single occupancy, but come in apartment style accommodation with 4 bedrooms, 2 bathrooms and a kitchen and common area. (2 families with parent and athlete could easily stay in 1 apartment).

For Judges and officials- there are hotel style rooms- with larger beds, microwave, private bath and TV available for $75/night. These are the deluxe rooms and are not part of the group pricing available.

There are single rooms with a single bed, private bath and microwave available for the group rate of $44/night which could also be used for judges/officials?

A continental breakfast option can be made available if enough people request it. It would be served in a common area in Kisik Tower and would be an additional (minimal) cost. There are restaurants nearby that are within walking distance for meals and common rooms would be available to have group meals if clubs wanted to make use of those spaces.

Parking is available at the residence for $15/day- but only has to be paid on weekdays (evenings and weekends free). So depending on when you arrived on Thursday, you may only need to purchase a parking pass for 1 day at $15.

Would likely not invoke Stay to Play as there is no financial incentive back to CBTF

Considerations:

Saskatchewan Provincials end on May 10th. Judges would travel home on Monday , and then possibly return on the Thursday. Perhaps consideration could be given to just having judges remain in Regina for 3 extra nights? That would open the door to some cost sharing options regarding flights between SBTA and CBTF.

This would depend on whether judges will be judging at both events and whether they could arrange to have that much time off?

I am requesting that Provinces/clubs get back to me as soon as possible with numbers of athletes attending (Team trials and if interested in an open event) and regarding interest in a continental breakfast option?

Once I have these numbers- I can finalize costs and arrangements with the residence.

The residence also prefers to invoice clubs directly as opposed to individual payments. So clubs will be able to call in- block their own rooms, request breakfast (if chosen) and will receive one invoice for the total for their athletes.

Judges meetings and meals would likely be held at the facility and provided by the U of R catering as there are not many food service options open on campus during this time of year. Depending on the timing of the event, we could arrange for 1 or 2 off campus meals and provide transportation for the judges to and from the restaurant selected in lieu of catered food?
